Yoga Day venue is Mysore Race Course

Mysuru, June 14 (MTY&BCT)- The sprawling 139.30-acre Mysore Race Course land at the foot of the iconic Chamundi Hill will now be the new venue for the Guinness Record attempt on International Yoga Day Celebrations on June 21.

The District Administration has decided to shift the location to Race Course as it has to be a single venue for the record attempt. The administration had earlier fixed the record-breaking attempt where more than 60,000 yoga enthusiasts were scheduled to perform at Mysore Palace premises, Hardinge Circle, D. Devaraja Urs Road, Maharaja's College Grounds, Oval Grounds and surrounding areas. Now with the change in venue, the June 18 rehearsal will be held at the Race Course.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, B.S. Prashanth, President of Mysore Travels Association said that initially they had applied for Multiple Venue Yoga Guinness Record feat. "We realised that such a record already exists and the available record is for a single venue. We thought the best venue in the city to accommodate such a large gathering will be the Race Course as it is in the heart of the city," he said.

In the Multiple Venue Yoga Guinness Record-breaking event last year on June 21 in Gujarat, over 86,000 yoga enthusiasts performed yoga for 45 minutes at multiple locations setting the world record.

This year, Mysuru will attempt to set a record of mass yoga performance at a single venue at the Race Course. Confirming this to Star of Mysore, Mysore Race Club Secretary K.G. Anantharaj Urs said that the Race Course will indeed host the June 21 mega event.

Addressing reporters at his office this morning, Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep said that the Race Course can accommodate 72,000 yoga enthusiasts. "We will use 71 acres of Race Course land on June 21 and the rehearsals will be held for the event on Sunday, June 18," he said and added that the vast Race Course was chosen to avoid traffic snarls on that day.

Private Hospitals surprised at Govt. move to fix rates for treatments

Bengaluru/Mysuru, June 14 (NNN,RK&SP)- A bill which empowers the State Government to fix rates for different types of treatment and bed charges in private hospitals and nursing homes was tabled in the Legislative Assembly on Tuesday. The Karnataka Private Medical Establishments (Amendment) Bill 2017, piloted by Health and Family Welfare Minister K.R. Ramesh Kumar, may come up for discussion today.

The Bill provides for imposing a penalty of up to Rs. 5 lakh and imprisonment up to three years if hospitals/nursing homes collect charges higher than that fixed by the State Government. The person who runs the hospital will be held responsible for violations and minimum penalty has been fixed at Rs. 25,000 and imprisonment of not less than three months.

Private hospitals react

Reacting to this move on the part of the Government to fix rates for private hospitals, Apollo Hospital Vice President Healthcare Services, Karnataka, Bharateesh Reddy speaking to Star of Mysore from Bengaluru said, "Our first reaction is surprise. The government could have taken the private hospitals, the public and the other stakeholders into confidence first, before introducing such a legislation. However, we do welcome government's proactive measure."

There is lot of serious implications with this step of the government.

"Every year our hospital has to factor in 15 per cent increase as the salaries and other infrastructure costs go up. Besides, for instance, we introduced a hi-tech gastroentrology centre in Mysuru. It costs a lot of money," he said.

Finance Minister falsified, framed

The Union Finance Minister is relentlessly in hot pursuit of the land's people, irrespective of their socio-economic status, to mop up funds to fill the government's kitty through the already familiar tools such as commercial tax, excise duty, sales tax, income tax, valued added tax and whatever, even as he is spearheading the move into action an all-pervading new weapon in his armoury, simply called GST (Goods and Services Tax). The battle lines between the nation's tax-man on one side and those generating their income lawfully by either producing goods or providing services on the other side have already been drawn. One is it at a loss to decide on pitying him or underrating him even as the nation is bugged by well-marked sections pre-occupied with disruptive acts in the population running a parallel economy making suckers of the land's masses, about which the FM prefers to look the other way.

The idiom "In this world, nothing can be said to be certain except death and taxes" attributed to Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790) by some and to Daniel Defoe (1660-1731), author of the classic The Political History of the Devil, by some others, assumes relevance in the current scenario across the country portraying the Finance Minister at his wits end to make a 100 per cent success of his plans ostensibly to build a globally leading and strong economy.

One cannot be faulted for not approving the incumbent Union Government's dealing effeminately with the rogue elements in the population, along with their cohorts in the rapidly expanding flock of politicians nurturing financial frauds, bootlegging, smuggling, anti-national acts and defying the land's laws disdainfully, getting away scot-free. Coming to the Central part of the caption to this column, data originating to a Chartered Accountants' (CAs) group, doing rounds in digital network, as reproduced briefly here throws adequate light on the big myth about the claims of the Finance Minister averring that a) India is largely a non-compliant society and b) that only 3.7 crore are filing Income Tax Returns (ITR) in this poor country of 125 crore population.

The myth opens out with facts that cannot be questioned. Agriculturists, accounting for 61.5 crore are exempted. About 24 per cent belong to BPL. Senior citizens, non-working, unemployed youths, below taxable earners, political class, only one earning member in a family of five to six dependants, leaving a balance of 3.75 crore. So, no gap in complying with tax laws exists, unlike the FM's stress on the issue, apparently without knowing his country's demographic realities. The group CAs has also suggested pragmatic ways of marshalling resources for the government without resorting to tax terrorism.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Pub hopping is a common pastime in Bengaluru. Given the number of pubs we have in the city, it is but natural that many try their hand at this cool activity. Of course, while many try it, only a few are able to achieve the state of nirvana that they aspire to at the end of the evening/night. The lucky ones are those who do proper planning in advance — for this is an art! For those who would like to have an unforgettable evening, the first step is to decide on a suitable day. You might claim that any day works for tipplers, but pub hopping does require one to choose an appropriate day. Fridays or Saturdays work best, that's when you won't have to go to work the next day. Also, those are the days when the pubs stay open late, giving you more time to hop between more pubs! The next is the companions. One can't hop pubs alone! No! One needs like-minded people with them, folks who enjoy the sport as much as you do. — Rajesh K.K. in Deccan Herald.

"I am a thief and a loser"

Sao Paolo: Maycon Wesley Carvalho dos Reis, a tattoo artist from the Brazilian State of Sao Paolo, was recently arrested and charged with torture, after punishing a young man, who tried to steal his bicycle by tattooing "I am a thief and a loser" on his forehead.

A disturbing video of an alleged would-be thief sporting a "sou ladrão e vacilão" tattoo on his forehead has gone viral in Brazilian social media since Friday. In it, two men ask the 17-year-old terrified boy to tell them what he wants to have tattooed on his forehead, and then force the answer out of him – "thief."

It turns out that the unnamed boy had attempted to steal Maycon Wesley Carvalho dos Reis' bike from outside his home, in São Bernardo do Campo, Sao Paolo, on Friday morning, when he was caught by his neighbour, Ronildo Moreira de Araújo, and together they decided to taught him a lesson. They tattoed on the boy's forehead.

World's only milk sommelier!

Amsterdam: Bas de Groot truly became fascinated with milk after tasting raw farm milk for the first time. The strong, layered flavours inundated his senses and left him wondering what milk from different regions of the Netherlands tastes like. As the world's only milk sommelier, Bas now travels the globe, tasting raw milk, and educating people about its special properties and benefits.

Up until just a week ago, I thought the word "sommelier" only referred to wine, but after knowing about Martin Riese, America's first and only water sommelier, and now came to know about there is also such a thing as a milk sommelier. Bas de Groot is the only person in the world to hold such a title, and while, unlike the best wine sommeliers, he is not yet able to recognise certain milks by flavour alone, he can detect certain differentiating notes based on the cows' diet and the soil they feed off of. For ex., milk from grass-fed Jersey and Meuse-Rhine Ijsselkoe cows has a high fat and protein content and tastes totally different from that of corn-fed Holstein and Frysian cattle, he claims.

Are farmed fish safe to eat?

Fish farmers feed about 2 dozen human antibiotics to their fish to keep them alive in their stressful marine environment. Farmed fish are also fed artificial colours to increase their consumer appeal and make them look natural. Potential health consequences: Gold dust retinopathy. This is the fish you eat at most restaurants.

Safety of school kids gone to air

Sir,

While expressing his concerns on safety of school children, Prof. K.V. Satyan, in his letter, clearly described how children are being taken to schools in various modes of transportation and the risks involved in the way the children are being taken to schools (SOM dated June 8).

Supplementing to his concerns, I have recently noticed school children being taken to school in a goods auto in the periphery of Mysuru city (see photo). I do not know whether it is a one-time occasion or a daily routine for these children.

Children are not goods to be transported to school in this fashion. The safety is totally ignored. The goods auto driver may not know what is happening in his back. Children in playful mood may do mischief that may lead to a safety issue.

Besides this, some of the school auto drivers are seen talking over the mobile while driving and violating lane discipline at the zebra crossing by going on to other side of the road risking collision if any vehicle takes a turn towards the auto at the crossing. Safety of the school children is the responsibility of the drivers of the school autos or vans and they need to act accordingly.

C. Basavegowda loses MCDCC Bank Director's post

Mysuru, June 14 (ACP&BCT)– The Mysuru Region Joint Co-operative Registrar's Court has ordered the cancellation of C. Basavegowda's post as the Director of Mysore and Chamarajanagar District Central Cooperative (MCDCC) Bank.

During the elections for the Director's post held on November 22, 2013, Basavegowda had contested from Rangasamudra Primary Agricultural Credit Co-operative Society in T. Narasipur and had won the elections.

Challenging this, Y.N. Shankaregowda of Yachenahalli Primary Agricultural Credit Cooperative Society had filed a petition in the Mysuru Region Joint Cooperative Registrar's Court.

According to Shankaregowda, as Basavegowda was not a resident of Rangasamudra, he was not eligible to contest from there and his continuance in the MCDCC Bank is against the law.

The petitioner demanded re-election to Rangasamudra Primary Agricultural Credit Co-operative Society.

Hearing the petition, the Registrar's Court observed that as per Cooperative Societies rules, a candidate wishing to contest in the elections must be a resident of the Co-operative Society's jurisdiction since one year.

But C. Basavegowda, a resident of Mysuru, had shifted his residence to Rangasamudra two months before the elections and his name was included in the voters' list.

The Court ruled that Basavegowda's election in 2013 for Mysuru District Central Cooperative Bank was illegal as he was not a resident of Rangasamudra then.

The Court cancelled election results and has asked the Bank Chief Executive Officer to conduct a re-election as per rules.

Meanwhile, MCDCC Bank President S. Chandrashekar has said that it was unfortunate that Basavegowda, who had got the "Sahakara Rathna" award, has lost his post as he provided false information about his residency.

'WILL MOVE COURT'

Reacting to the Court ruling, C. Basavegowda said that when he had filed nomination papers for the Director's election, his name was removed from the voters' list. "I had moved the Karnataka High Court against this and had obtained a stay. They had cited a few reasons while they removed my name from the voters' list and have mentioned the same reasons to remove me from the Director's post despite the High Court stay. I will fight this in the Court," he said.

Janthakal Mining case

Court rejects HDK's anticipatory bail plea

Bengaluru, June 14- A Lokayukta Special Court yesterday rejected an anticipatory bail application filed by former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy in an illegal mining case.

Kumaraswamy

Lokayukta Special Court Judge Gopal observed that anticipatory bail cannot be granted as the allegations against the accused amount to economical offence, considering the verdicts of the Supreme Court in similar cases. Fearing arrest, Kumaraswamy quickly moved the Karnataka High Court seeking anticipatory bail.

The Special Investigation Team (SIT), which is probing illegal mining cases in the State, had registered a case against Kumaraswamy based on the statement by senior IAS Officer Gangaram Baderia.

The SIT had arrested Baderia for according permission to Janthakal Enterprises in 2006 based on forged letters purportedly issued by the Ministry of Environment and Forests.

During questioning, Baderia had stated that he had accorded permission on instructions from the then CM Kumaraswamy.

Baderia, the then Commissioner of Mines and Geology, had alleged that Kumaraswamy instructed him to allow Vinod Goel of Janthakal Mining Company to lift iron and manganese ore dumped in Chitradurga.

Meanwhile, former Minister G. Janardhan Reddy yesterday submitted evidence to the SIT in support of his allegation made 10 years ago, that Kumaraswamy had received Rs. 150-crore kickback from mining companies in Ballari. After submitting the evidence at the SIT office, Reddy said he has submitted a pen drive and several bank statements to substantiate his allegations.

Prof. Rangappa takes a plunge into politics, finally Mysuru, June 14 (RK&BCT)- It is now confirmed that former Vice-Chancellor of Mysore University Prof. K.S. Rangappa will take a plunge into politics. According to JD(S) sources, his name has been finalised to contest as an MLA from Chamaraja Assembly Constituency for the elections to be held next year and JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda has cleared his name. Sources said that Rangappa has been sounded by party leaders to prepare for the electoral battle and enable JD(S) to come to power with its own strength. Rangappa's term as VC ended on Jan. 10 and at that time, he had announced that he will not be entering politics. In a change of stance, Rangappa now has decided not to limit his contributions to academics but also enter active public life.

Rangappa

And as a prelude to entering politics, Rangappa performed puja at Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple yesterday along with JD(S) leaders Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, former Mayor R. Lingappa and other leaders. After the puja rituals, Rangappa participated in a sapling planting programme opposite Saraswathipuram Fire Brigade Station.

Speaking to SOM on his new innings, Prof. Rangappa said that as directed by Deve Gowda, he will meet his old associates, friends and well-wishers to seek their support. "I will meet party workers, JD(S) leaders, members in local bodies, Zilla and Taluk Panchayat members and seek their support and understand ground-level politics," he said and added that he will remain active in public life and will try his best to serve the people. With his name figuring in the JD(S) list, it remains to be seen how the hard-core academician will get a make-over as a politician.

Will Geetha Shivrajkumar contest from Congress?

Bengaluru, June 14- Will Geetha Shivrajkumar, the wife of actor Shivrajkumar and also the daughter of former Chief Minister of Karnataka, S. Bangarappa, contest the next Lok Sabha elections from Congress? Yes, say political pundits after Congress Vice-President Rahul Gandhi visited Shivrajkumar's house on Monday when he came to Bengaluru to relaunch National Herald newspaper.

Rahul, accompanied by Energy Minister D.K. Shivakumar, visited the Raj family at their Sadashivanagar residence to console the family following the recent death of Parvathamma Rajkumar. Introducing Geetha Shivrajkumar to Rahul Gandhi, Minister Shivakumar said that she had contested the last Lok Sabha elections from JD(S) and she would contest the next Lok Sabha elections with Congress ticket.

It may be recalled here that Geetha had lost her maiden Lok Sabha elections in 2014. A lot of film personalities had even gone to Shivamogga where she contested from to lend support and even help with her campaigning. But things did not really work out for Geetha who lost the elections to none other than former Karnataka Chief Minister B.S. Yeddyurappa of the BJP.

Countdown begins

The countdown has begun for the first Mysuru Literary Fest organised by the Mysore Literary Association on Sunday, June 18. The venue —Senate Bhavan — in the sprawling, beautiful Manasagangothri campus is getting spruced up as the literati and cognoscenti will descend in large numbers to listen and interact with some of the finest authors as this is what the Lit Fest is all about. As such, Star of Mysore is the natural media partner.

Star of Mysore* is profiling, since June 13, the eclectic mix of authors who will be a part of the Fest. Read about them and be ready to participate in the event, which Mysuru is waiting, for a long time…

Kavery Nambisan, Well-known Novelist

Kavery Nambisan is a novelist, also a surgeon who practices in rural India. She was born in Palangala village in South Kodagu, in a politician's family. Her father, C.M. Poonacha, was the Chief Minister of the then Coorg (now Kodagu) State and was Union Railway. She is the sister of author C.P. Belliappa, who is also participating in the Fest.

Kavery studied medicine in St. John's Medical College, Bengaluru and then studied surgery at the University of Liverpool, England, where she obtained the FRCS qualification. She worked as a surgeon in various parts of rural India before moving to Lonavala, Pune, to start a free medical centre for migrant labourers.

Nambisan works as surgeon and medical advisor at the Tata Coffee Hospital in Kodagu, and is the Chief Medical Officer for Tata Coffee. She has created several programmes for child immunisation and family planning for the rural communities. She is vocal in her critiques of urban centred health planning.

Her career in medicine has been a powerful influence in her fiction. She wrote stories for the now defunct children's magazine Target. She also contributed to Femina and Eve's Weekly. Kavery Nambisan has authored several novels for adults, each with widely differing themes. Her first book, published under the name Kavery Bhatt, The Truth (almost) About Bharat, is the story of a rebellious young medical student who runs away from medical college, and begins a cross-country road trip on his motorcycle. Her sixth novel, The Story that Must Not Be Told was shortlisted for the DSC Prize for South Asian Literature in 2012, as well as the Man Asian Literary Prize in 2008.

Kavery's second novel, The Scent of Pepper (1996) was set in her birthplace, Kodagu and is a portrait of the life and culture of its people, through the eyes of a family from colonial rule to independence. Mango-coloured Fish (1998) concerns a woman whose marriage has been arranged to a man she does not love. On Wings of Butterflies (2002) is set in the women's movement in independent India and narrates the story of a group of women entering politics. The Hills of Angheri (2005) draws from Nambisan's own experiences as a doctor, tracing a young woman's medical career.

Her seventh and most recent novel, A Town Like Ours (2014) is an account of the lives of several people, narrated by a sex worker living in a small town, and engages with themes of identity and industrialisation.

Kavery Nambisan's story Dr. Sad and the Power Lunch was joint runner-up in the third Outlook-Picador non-fiction contest in 2003. She has also contributed fiction to Indian Literature, the journal published by the Sahitya Akademi (India's National Academy of Letters).

She has also contributed some works of criticism, including a piece on 'New Issues in Fiction' to the journal Indian Literature. Kavery Nambisan was 'Coorg Person of the Year' in 2005. Her contribution is tremendously appreciated and considered as a person with an astounding personality.

NOTE: Geetha Kariappa, who teaches English in SJCE, Mysuru will be in conversation with Kavery Nambisan at the Fest.

State claiming credit for Centre's largesse: MP

Mysuru, June 14 (YDS&NNN)- MP Pratap Simha, taking pot-shots indirectly at the Siddharamaiah Government, said that it was claiming credit for all the programmes of the Central Government by just changing stickers.

He was speaking at the 'Sabka Saath Sabka Vikas,' programme, organised by Bharat Sanchar Nigam Ltd. (BSNL), Mysuru, at Kalamandira, here yesterday and said the Centre had released money for all items like rice, wheat, sugar, LED bulbs and equipment related to agriculture activities like pipes and sprinklers. However, the State Government is claiming that it is supporting all these from its funds, he alleged.

When Narendra Modi came to power, his main aim was to strengthen ties with neighbouring countries to counter China. Whoever became the Prime Minister, the practise was to visit bigger nations first, but Modi broke the trend and instead of visiting America, Japan, China, he visited Bhutan.

Since the last 70 years, successive governments, have been practising vote-bank politics and in order to attract voters distributing rice and other commodities freely. However, after Modi came to power, things have changed. When he announced that if the rich forego subsidy on cooking gas it would help to distribute it to rural women freely, 1.10 lakh gave up subsidy on LPG and as a result two crore people are benefited.

After Lal Bahadur Shastri, it is only Narendra Modi who is doing good work in bringing the people together, said Simha admiring the Prime Minister.

One lakh km NH aim: The Modi government has come forward to fund 427 National Highway (NH) projects. In Karnataka, the Centre has given money to Mysuru-Nanjangud-Gundlupet highway project. It is also geared up to release funds for Bengaluru-Bantawal National Highway 275. In all, Rs. 6,000 crore has been set aside for NH projects. Even for Mysuru Outer Ring Road, the Centre had sanctioned Rs. 156 crore. By 2019, the country will have one lakh km of National Highway, he said.

Earlier, a video presentation was made on three years achievements of the Central Government. SVYM Founder Dr. R. Balasubramaniam and BSNL Principal General Manager K.L. Jairam were present.

World Blood Donor Day
14-06-2017
Slogan : What Can you do ? Give Now, Give often

JSS Nursing students taking out an awareness rally from JSS Hospital premises in city this morning to mark 'World Blood Donor Day-2017.' Picture right shows regular blood donors Anil and Mahesh of Mysuru and M. Basavaraju of T. Narasipur being felicitated by Mayor M.J. Ravikumar as JSS University Registrar Dr. B. Manjunatha, JSS Medical College Principal Dr. H. Basavanagowdappa and as others look on.

Mysuru, June 14 (SP&KS) - Every year, on June 14, countries around the world celebrate World Blood Donor Day (WBDD) to create awareness on the need for safe blood and blood products and to thank blood donors for their life-saving gifts of blood.

Similarly, the Department of Transfusion Medicine of JSS Medical College and Hospital, in association with JSS College of Nursing and JSS School of Nursing had organised an awareness rally and a stage programme at Sri Rajendra Centenary Auditorium in the hospital premises this morning.

With this year's theme being 'What can you do? Give now. Give often,' about 400 students of JSS College of Nursing, took out a rally from the hospital premises on MG Road, which was flagged off by R. Mahesh, Director, Medical Education, JSS Mahavidyapeetha.

The students, carrying placards with the messages on the importance of blood donation, passed through M.G. Road to reach Agrahara Circle, where they staged a street play. The rally continued via Sayyaji Rao Road, Basaveshwara Circle (Gun House Circle) and culminated at the starting point.

The stage programme was inaugurated by Mayor M.J. Ravikumar. In his inaugural speech, Ravikumar said that blood donation is one of the greatest donations that a human being can do and added that every pint of blood donated saves more than three lives. The Mayor urged the hospital authorities to make blood affordable for the poor.

On the occasion, regular blood donors Anil and Mahesh of Mysuru and M. Basavaraju of T. Narasipur were felicitated. A voluntary blood donation camp and display of posters was also held at the hospital.

Registrar of JSS University Dr. B. Manjunatha, JSS Medical College Principal Dr. H. Basavanagowdappa, JSS School of Nursing Principal Shashidhar Kumar, Drug Controller Dr. Shivakumar, JSS Hospital Medical Superintendent Dr. Guruswamy, Corporator M.V. Ramprasad and others were present.

Private Hospitals surprised

"People from Mysuru and surrounding areas had to go to Bengaluru and other parts but now they have the facility at their home town itself," Bharateesh Reddy said and added, "we will have to think twice in the future if the conditions become harsh for us to invest."

He said that his hospital had NABH accreditation and very few hospitals in Mysuru have it. Here the protocols like informing the patients about all the details and the cost are always followed and these are the steps that the government needs to take first.

General Manager of Columbia Asia Hospital, Mysuru, Col. Rahul Tewari said, "There are various issues involved in healthcare and it is a complex task. The cost of treatment varies from hospital to hospital depending upon the infrastructure. If they fix a particular price, then it will not be sustainable thing. However, we are not looking to counter Government's move but it needs to have a broader perspective."

"We will have to think twice about running the hospital if we have to follow the amended rules being introduced by the government to fix rates for treating patients. First they should find out whether it is feasible for the private hospitals to run their establishments by fixing costs," said Dr B.H. Manjunath of Brindavan Hospital.

"If the government can provide all the facilities to the patients then where is the necessity for private hospitals? As it is, we are also providing free treatment at times to poor patients," said Syed, Administrator, Vatsalya Hospital.

"We have very modern equipment which government hospitals do not have. We also provide quality health care which costs money. We will think about what steps we need to take following the amendments," said Senior Casualty Medical Officer, JSS Hosptials, Dr. S.K. Ghori.

Yoga Day venue is Race Course

"To break the Chain Link Yoga Record created in 2014 at Perumbudur in Tamil Nadu by Vidyashala School where 3,000 students participated, we have planned a mass Chain Link Yoga on June 19 at Mysore Palace premises and the rehearsal for this will be held on June 17 at 7 am," the DC said.

So far, over 15,000 people have registered for the Yoga Day performance. Special counters will be set up across the Race Course venue for on-the-spot registration.

"We have a budget of Rs. 45 lakh and the Guinness Record fee has cost us Rs. 10 lakh. To avoid traffic jams on June 21, we will have designated parking areas for yoga participants from where they will be ferried to the Race Course in KSRTC buses. We will identify the parking venues by today evening," Randeep added.

Several injured in London Tower inferno

London, June 14 - An uncertain number of people were feared dead and others trapped in a massive fire that ripped through a 27-storey apartment block in west London early this morning.

People could hear screams from the upper floors as the flames rose and one desperate resident could be seen waving a white cloth. London Ambulance Service said they have taken 30 patients to five hospitals in the city.

Police and fire services attempted to evacuate the concrete block. People at the scene attempted to call their loved ones stuck inside and were being directed by the Police to a nearby restaurant where some of the injured were being treated.

Police were also clearing out nearby buildings because of fears about falling debris. The apartment block was built in 1974.

Local residents had warned a year ago about a potential fire risk caused by rubbish being allowed to accumulate during improvement works.

Cerclage to manage Cervical Incompetence

Gouri, 34 years old, married for 8 years had eight pregnancy losses. Out of the eight pregnancy losses, four losses were in the first part of pregnancy and four losses were between fourth – seventh months of pregnancy. Looking at her previous history, where she had had pregnancy losses between 3–7 months, a decision was taken to do a trans-abdominal cervical cerclage – a stitch placed at the level of internal os or around the cervix through the abdominal route. She conceived again and this was her 9th pregnancy. The abdominal cerclage was still in place. The patient was started on Low Molecular Weight Heparin (LMWH) right from the time that the pregnancy was confirmed to be situated inside the uterus. She was also found to be mild diabetic. At 32 weeks a Doppler showed a falling resistance in middle cerebral artery with uncontrolled hypertension. The patient was taken for Elective LSCS and delivered a male baby weighing 1.65 kgs.

Dr. Devika Gunasheela

Cervical incompetence is a medical condition in which the neck of the womb (cervix) in a pregnant woman begins to open and thin out much before the date that the baby is due to be born. Cervical incompetence may cause miscarriage or preterm birth during the second and third parts of the pregnancy. Cervical incompetence occurs because of weakness of the cervix.

Risk Factors: History of previous pregnancies ending in abortions in the second & early third trimester (i.e., between 13 – 30 weeks of pregnancy), any operations on the neck of the womb and repeated abortions where the pregnancy has taken out surgically.

Treatment: Once the problem of incompetence is diagnosed, the condition may be treatable through a surgical procedure called cerclage (stitching the cervix closed). One or more stitches are placed around or through the cervix to keep it tightly closed. This is usually performed after the twelfth week of pregnancy, the time after which a woman is least likely to miscarry for other reasons - but it is not done if there is rupture of the membranes or infection.

According to the complaint, Manohar Singh, who owns Manmandir Jewels, located under Metagalli Police limits on the Loknayaknagar-Hebbal Road, contacted Suresh Kumar Raval of N.S. Jewellers and had told him that he was running a lottery scheme to his customers and had issued post-dated cheques for Rs. 43.42 lakh and for Rs. 24 lakh while purchasing gold twice from his shop. After issuing the cheques, Manohar Singh had asked the Bank not to honour the cheque and accordingly when Suresh Kumar Raval presented the cheques, he was told that the payment was denied following Manohar Singh's request.

Later, Suresh Kumar issued a notice to Manohar Singh through his advocate and Manohar contended that he had not purchased the jewellery but alleged that Suresh was misusing the cheques that were issued as a "deposit" before the business deal materialised.

Following this, Suresh lodged a complaint at Lashkar Police Station against Manohar. It may be mentioned here that in April, Manmandir Jewels was accused of cheating thousands of customers by collecting money through lotteries and various monthly investment schemes.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

In this week's Pet Talk,
Maneka explains how puppies can be taught to sit?

What to do if my pet has a broken toenail?

A broken toenail on your pet's foot can easily be attributed to vigorous backyard digging, but a broken nail may sometimes signal something more serious and should always merit a call to your veterinarian.

Here are some examples of problems that a broken toenail, or painful toe, can signal.

a. Nail Infections: Bacterial, fungal and yeast infections are common in the feet and nail beds of dogs and cats, especially those with allergies to substances in the environment like dust, mould and pollen. A botched nail trim, or a broken toenail can also lead to a nail infection if the site is exposed to contaminants.

Signs of an infection may include excessive foot-licking or limping. You may notice redness and oozing from the junction between the nail and toe. Severe infections can cause nail discolouration and the nail may become brittle.

Your veterinarian may advise soaking the area, and may prescribe oral antibiotics or anti-fungal medications to resolve these conditions.

b. Squamous Cell Carcinoma: Veterinarians have long been aware that large breed, dark-coated dogs, like black Labradors, Briards and black standard Poodles, have an increased risk of developing a certain type of cancerous tumour in the toes. These tumours, called squamous cell carcinoma's, can destroy the bone and cause the nail to break easily. You might notice some blood spots on the carpet, or your dog licking at one particular toe. A fascinating, recent genetic study explored the connection between toe squamous cell carcinoma and coat colour in poodles, and identified two genes linked to coat colour that are involved in the manifestation of this worrisome tumour. The researchers found that one of the genes, which is protective against the tumour, is lacking in black-coated Poodles. Since the study was limited to Poodles, the information cannot be generalised to all light-coloured dogs. Additionally, whether this seeming immunity to toe squamous cell carcinomas extends to some of the designer Poodle mixed breeds, such as Golden doodles and Labradoodles, is unknown at this time. Regardless of coat colour, any dog with toe swelling should be examined by a veterinarian and subjected to radiographs and possibly a biopsy of the toe.

Melanoma of the Toe: Melanoma, a cancerous tumour of pigment cells, behaves differently in dogs than in humans. Malignant melanoma occurs in the mouth, and at the junction between the nail and the first toe bone. Like toe squamous cell carcinoma, melanoma of the toe can destroy the bone, weaken the nail and cause the nail to break off. In the early stages of this deadly tumour, you may see redness, or weepiness, at the junction between the nail and the toe. If left untreated, toe melanoma tends to spread throughout the body, making early detection a lifesaver.

As with squamous cell carcinomas, detection requires a visit to a veterinarian, where a radiograph of the toe, and potentially a biopsy, are likely interventions.

c. Feline Toe Tumours and Lung Cancer: Melanoma is extremely rare in cats and, while squamous cell carcinoma does occur in kitties, it does not typically do so in the feline toe. But, in a strange twist of cancer behaviour, cats can get toe tumours. These bizarre tumours just happen not to originate in the toe.

When a cancer specialist examines a cat with a swollen toe, his first impulse may seem strange to the cat's family because he is very anxious to X-ray the cat's chest. The reason for this is that the chest X-ray will determine if the toe swelling has spread (or metastasized) from feline lung cancer. This odd occurrence in cats is well known to veterinary oncologists as lung-digit syndrome. Identifying lung-digit syndrome is critical, since there is no real treatment, and palliative care measures should be instituted immediately.

For all these reasons, if you notice your pet licking his feet beyond normal grooming behaviour, or if you come across a broken nail, check each one of his toes for swelling, oozing or pain. Licking at one particular toe, especially if there is swelling or redness, should not be ignored and a trip to your veterinarian is in order.

Early detection of a toe tumour can increase the chance that successful treatment can be employed to help extend the length and quality of your pet's life.

My cat bites me when I pet her. Why?

Typically, a friendly cat seeks out human attention, only to turn on his lavisher of attention once the affection seems to have gone on for too long. Despite the perplexing nature of this uniquely feline way of acting out, a couple of possibilities have been proposed to explain why cats might do this:

a. It may be a manifestation of so-called status-induced aggression, in which cats seek to control a situation.
b. There may be some neurologically significant negative stimulus associated with being petted at length that affects these cats in particular.
c. These cats may be especially subtle at letting humans know when they're unhappy, so that their change in attitude appears more sudden than it truly is.

Over time learn to recognise the very subtle warning signs associated with your cat's displeasure, before it reaches the biting point.

How can I teach my puppy to sit?

The Sit is one of the easiest skills to teach. A puppy who sits on command is easier to manage until he learns more self-control. For example, when you teach your dog to sit when the doorbell rings, he is less likely to jump up on visitors when the door opens.

To Teach 'Sit': Get on your puppy's level, either on the floor or in a chair next to him; Hold a treat close to his nose and let his head follow the treat as you move your hand up; As his head moves up, his butt will lower; When his butt hits the floor, release the treat to his mouth. Immediately praise him for his brilliance; Repeat multiple times every day. Pair the behaviour with the word "Sit."

Don't hold the treat so high that your dog tries to jump up for it. Instead, hold it in your closed hand just high enough that he stretches his neck. Every time his rump hits the floor, tell him "Good, Sit!" This is a great game for children in the house to play with your dog. Repetitions are important, but your dog will tire of multiple reps. Rather, play the sit game with your dog in short bursts multiple times every day. Reinforce the sit in other situations, like mealtimes. Have him sit before you put his food bowl on the floor, or before you open the door to take him on a walk. If he breaks the sit, remind him of his job with a quiet "Oops, try again" before you open the door. If this command is reinforced every time you ask your dog to sit away from the door, he will be less likely to bolt and run when the door opens. In this respect, the sit command can be a lifesaver.

CHAMPIONS TROPHY

Indo-Bangla clash tomorrow

Birmingham, June 14- Team India captain Virat Kohli has promised there will be no let-up from the title-holders when they face Bangladesh in the semi-finals of the Champions Trophy at Edgbaston tomorrow.

After a surprise group defeat by Sri Lanka in a tournament featuring the world's top eight one-day international sides, India responded to their 'win or go home' clash against South Africa with a commanding eight-wicket victory over the top-ranked Proteas at the Oval last weekend.

India's bowlers put the brakes on South Africa's innings while a trio of run-outs said much about the Proteas' frailty and the improved fielding standards of Kohli's men.

Needing a mere 192 for victory, Kohli was there at the finish with 76 not out as India won with a whopping 12 overs to spare. It was an innings that helped take the India skipper back to number one in the ICC ODI batting rankings. Now India return to Edgbaston where they launched their title-defence with a 124-run thrashing of arch-rivals Pakistan.

With Pakistan facing tournament hosts England in Wednesday's first semi-final in Cardiff, three of the four teams left in the tournament are all from the sub-continent.

Kohli acknowledged the amount of one-day cricket played in the region was a factor, but he has also been impressed with the way so many of the Asian nations have adapted to English conditions.

There was certainly plenty of good work with the ball carried out by Bangladesh's bowlers as they held New Zealand to a modest 265 for eight in Cardiff last time out. The Tigers were, however, still looking at an embarrassing defeat when they slumped to 33 for four in reply.

But Shakib Al Hasan (114) and Mahmudullah (102 not out) responded to the pressure of a dire position in a must-win game with a brilliant new Bangladesh record partnership of 224 that turned the match upside down and eventually saw New Zealand eliminated. Bangladesh's place in the last four was confirmed when England beat Australia. India have 26 of their 32 ODIs against Bangladesh, suffering just five defeats with one no result. But Bangladesh captain Mashrafe Mortaza believes wins such as the one over New Zealand will bolster the side's already growing self-belief.

Asia Cup Qualifier-2017

Sunil Chhetri shines in India's victory

Bengaluru, June 14- Captain Sunil Chhetri stamped his class yet again as he scored the match-winner to fire India to a 1-0 win over Kyrgyzstan in a fast-pace and entertaining Asian Cup qualifier match here on Tuesday.

Chhetri drilled a long shot with his right foot off a fine pass from Jeje Lalpekhlua in the 69th minute to lead India to a crucial win in the home leg tie of the Group A third round qualifiers of the 2019 Asian Cup.

Chhetri, who scored his 54th goal in his 94th match, led from the front throughout the match. Playing behind the lone striker Jeje, he was in the thick of things, at times falling back deep to help the defenders, setting up his team-mates and also taking shots on his own.

With the win, India sat atop the group with six points - from two wins - ahead of Kyrgyzstan and Myanmar who both have three points from two matches. Macau are yet to open account from their two matches.

All the four teams will play home and away matches and the two top sides will qualify for the 2019 AFC Asian Cup to be held in United Arab Emirates.

The hosts, who had beaten Myanmar 1-0 in their first match of the qualifiers, notched up their seventh official international match on the trot.

Kyrgyzstan had better ball possession and more attack but they found wanting in their finishing. The Indian back-four of Sandesh Jhingan, Anas Edathodika, Pritam Kotal and Narayan Das were also superb in defending. The visiting side was denied by the upright in the second half while Indian goalkeeper Gurpreet Singh Sandhu made at least three brilliant saves to ensure that the hosts walked away with all three points.

Kyrgyzstan, who are ranked at 132 as against India's 100, suffered a jolt as soon as the match started with their key midfielder Anton Zemilanukhin being stretchered out after a collision with Gurpreet in the fourth minute. Edgar Bernhardt took his place. The 15th minute was all about Kyrgyz onslaught which kept the sizeable crowd at the Sree Kanteerava Stadium quiet. During this period, the visitors had most of the ball possession with the Indians leaving a lot of space in the midfield. It was due to the brilliance of Gurpreet India did not concede a goal in the 15th minute.

Bakhtiar Duyshobekov had a low shot from a nice buildup but Gurpreet brilliantly saved diving to his right. India slowly clawed their way back into the match and even threatened to take the lead soon.

In the 23rd minute, Jakichand Singh was on the clear at the right top edge of the box after being released by Chhetri but he was in two minds whether to shoot or pass and wasted a fine move.

Three minutes later, Kyrgyz goal was under threat as Jackichand sent a nice long pass to Chhetri whose first touch inside the box with his left foot was out of control but Holycharan Nazary was there but he shot straight to the goalie.

India could have won the match with a better margin but for the two chances they wasted in the additional injury time of four minutes. Chhetri sent Robin Singh, who substituted Jeje in the 80th minute, on the clear in the first minute of the injury time but the striker shot over with the goalkeeper at his mercy. In the final minute of the added time, Chhetri himself was on the verge of scoring his second of the night but he also shot over in haste.

India's next match is against Macau, an away game, on September 5.

Virat Kholi is numero uno

Dubai, June 14- India captain Virat Kohli reclaimed the top batting spot in the latest ICC ODI Player Rankings, which were released on Tuesday morning following the conclusion of the last round of league matches in the ICC Champions Trophy 2017.

Virat had entered the tournament 22 points behind number-one ranked AB de Villiers of South Africa (who had been No.1 since 25 February 2017) and 19 points behind Australia's David Warner. However, following knocks of 81 not out against Pakistan and 76 not out against South Africa, he has leapfrogged de Villiers and Warner into the number-spot.

Virat, who is ahead of David Warner by just one point, had enjoyed just four days at the top in January 2017, but will now be aiming to do better when he faces Bangladesh in the second semi-final at Edgbaston tomorrow. India's opener Shikhar Dhawan has continued his love-affair with the ICC Champions Trophy by returning into the top 10.

Green toilet facility in Palace too by December

CII, Automotive Axles and District Administration initiative

Mysuru, June 14 (NNN)- Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep performed ground-breaking ceremony on Sunday last (June 11) to build a toilet facility at Mysore Palace premises.

It is an initiative of Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) and Automotive Axles Ltd., in partnership with District Administration. They had jointly built India's first green building for public convenience (Toilet) at a cost of nearly Rs. One crore atop Chamundi Hill.

"The response for the green toilet which is constructed at Chamundi Hill is really good. On the same lines with the CSR fund we have given permission to take up such facilities at Mysore Palace. Some of the tourists even complained about existing toilet facility. Hence, the proposed toilet facility at most visited tourist place in Mysuru will be helpful for the tourists," said Randeep.

"After Mysuru was awarded 'Cleanest city' tag for the first time, we decided to do something for Mysuru. The new facility will have separate toilet facilities for both men and women and also exclusive toilet facility for physically-challenged which was not there in the existing toilet facility at the Palace premise. The new toilet facility will be inaugurated on December 1," said Dr. N. Muthukumar, Immediate Past Chairman, CII, Mysuru.

"It's something public will greatly benefit from, Mysore Palace being among highest visited place in the country. In 2014 we have overtaken Taj Mahal as the most visited tourist destination in India. If we do not have proper civic amenity it is not good, so we are creating a green building with energy efficiency. Next, we have planned to come out with such facility in Nanjundeshwara Temple in Nanjangud and even at KRS," said Arjun Ranga, Chairman, CII, Mysuru.

V. Mouli, Head, CII Mysuru, said that they were working towards making Mysuru the first tourist-friendly destination in India and added that all these projects are part of Swachh Bharat initiative.

Salient features of green toilet: The facility includes 10 Indian toilets and five western toilets for ladies, nine Indian and two western toilets for gents, apart from 14 urinals for adults and two for children, one EWC facility for physically-challenged and facility for childcare. The toilet will be designed for scientific air flow, while the urinals will be equipped with biological and chemical cleaner. The hand wash system will be sensor-based and there will also be a rain water harvesting system installed.

There will be facility for RO drinking water with a capacity of 200 LPH and to conserve water, there will be low flow fitting.

LED lighting will be fixed for energy conservation, pressurised water pumping system for flushing, polycarbonate sheet for roof to save power during day light and 5KW roof top solar system will be installed.

WORD OF THE DAY

Engender

Pronunciation: in-JEN-der.

Meaning: Beget, procreate; to cause to exist or to develop: produce; to assume form: originate.

Origin: When engender was first used in the 14th century, it meant "propagate" or "procreate," but extended meanings soon developed. Engender comes from the Latin verb generare, which means "to generate" or "to beget." Generate, regenerate, degenerate, and generation are of course related to the Latin verb as well. As you might suspect, the list of engender relatives does not end there. Generare comes from the Latin noun genus, meaning "birth," "race," or "kind." From this source we have our own word genus, plus gender, general, and generic, among other words.

THE ODD WORD

Sanguivorous

Blood-drinking

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The land of Nod

Meaning: Sleep; the state of sleep.

Origin: We now usually think of 'The Land of Nod' as a mythical place, where we go to when we sleep. Nod was indeed a mythical location, but it was originally a place of anguished exile rather than of peaceful sleep. Nodding, as in the brief inclination of the head, has been in use as a verb in English since at least the 14th century; Geoffery Chaucer recorded it in The Manciple's Tale, circa 1390:

"Sirs, what! Dun is in the mire!
Is there no man, then, who, for prayer or hire,
Will wake our comrade who's so far behind?
A thief might easily rob him and bind.
See how he's nodding!

Obviously, people also nod their heads when dropping off to sleep ('nodding off') and it is easy to see how someone of a punning disposition might equate the land of Nod with sleeping. Step forward Dean Jonathan Swift. It appears that Swift was the first person to make the little linguistic joke, in A complete collection of genteel and ingenious conversation, 1738. The good Dean has his characters refer to several punning names for going to sleep:

Lady Answ. I'm sure 'tis time for honest Folks to be a-bed.
Miss. Indeed my Eyes draws Straw.
Col. I'm going to the Land of Nod.
Neverout. Faith, I'm for Bedfordshire.
